Joseph Ferrine Shot at Michael Cemerine, a Fellow Workman.

FORTUNATELY HIS AIM WAS BAD

H. H. Potter Arrested on a Charge of Embezzlement—Welsh Philosophical Society Organized—Miss Minnie Klee, of Oak Street, Tended a Surprise Party—Bartley Hoban Sustained a Broken Leg While Wrestling—Personal Mention.

Joseph Ferrine came near ending the earthly career of Michael Cemerine yesterday. Both men are employed by the Providence Gas and Water company, and were engaged in making excavations preparatory to the laying of a water main. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the men had a heated controversy and Ferrine pulled out a revolver and fired at Cemerine. The bullet missed him and the would-be murderer escaped.

Cemerine proceeded to Alderman Pilder's office and had a warrant issued for the arrest of his assailant. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Seth Smith, who apprehended his man in the red barn in Park Place. He was given a hearing before Alderman Pilder who committed him to jail in default of $600 bail.

TOLD IN A FEW LINES.

The arrest of H. H. Potter, a prominent young man in this place, on a charge of embezzlement, preferred by Colonel T. D. Lewis Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, created a sensation among his friends yesterday. Potter was secretary of the above society and during his term of office it is alleged that he misappropriated $20.25 of the savings funds, and was unable to account for the deficiency. At the hearing before Alderman Pilder yesterday the officers of the council suspended action pending a settlement.

A Welsh Philosophical society was organized recently here. The society is prospering rapidly and has twenty members already enrolled and is receiving new members into its ranks at every meeting. The society meets every Friday evening in the Welsh Methodist church on Wayne avenue. Henry G. Davies is president of the society. Miss Minnie Klee, of Oak street, was the recipient of a very pleasant surprise party recently, which was tendered by a number of her friends. Games and other diversions were indulged in after which refreshments were served.

While Bartley Hoban and Patrick Malia were engaged in a friendly wrestling bout Saturday evening Malia accidentally broke Hoban's leg. The injured man was conveyed to his home, from whence he was removed to the Lackawanna hospital for treatment.

LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

Coming Eisteddfod at Wilkes-Barre Awakening Much Interest.

EFFORTS TO ORGANIZE SINGERS

Members of Wood Workers Union No. 26 Entertained Their Friends in Mears Hall—Members of St. Brendan Council Enjoy an Evening of Progressive Euchre—First Prize Won by Leo Crossin—Amounts Deposited by No. 13 and No. 19 Schools

The musical element on this side have again become keenly active. The preparations thus far advanced for the eisteddfod will be held at Wilkes-Barre, May 30, give every indication of its being one of the best of recent years, hence the activity of vocalists in this centre of musical talent.

There are several main prizes which are worth competing for. Then again, the distance to travel and the time required are so small that there is no reason why, with the ability and undoubted talent of both singers and leaders, that West Scranton should not be represented in Wilkes-Barre on Decoration Day and return victorious. A choir of mixed voices has not as yet been formed, though arrangements are being perfected toward that end. Possibly this week will find the choir already at work at rehearsals.

The organizing of a party of male voices has progressed much further. Last Saturday evening a meeting was held and officers were chosen. John H. Powell was made chairman; David Owens, secretary; D. I. Phillips, treasurer; Walter Davis, accompanist, and Prof. Jorwerth Prosser, leader. Stated meetings for rehearsals, etc., will be arranged and a hall procured immediately. It was at first thought that only one male voice party would be taken from here, but it now seems that the wishes of his friends. He may accept a call to St. Johnsbury, Va., to a similar position to the one he now holds as organist and if so will probably remove from here in the fall. He would like to add one more victory before going. Besides, much have the Thomas Givents, of Kingston, boasted of their immunity from defeat. A first-class opportunity to meet this excellent aggregation now presents itself and many here are who would gladly like to go to glory with Mr. Watkins as their leader.

WOOD WORKERS ENTERTAIN.

The members of Wood Workers' union, No. 26, Scranton, gave a concert and social at Mears' hall last evening which was well attended despite the inclement weather. The programme as carried out consisted of solos by Misses Clara Saunders, Rhoda Clark, Margaret Jones and Edwin Bowen and John Jones; duet by the Misses Ethel and Edith Morgan; quartette selections by the Misses Clara Sanders and Margaret Jones and Edwin Bowen and John Jones; the Klondike quartette. Recitations were given by Misses Bessie Stout, Gertrude Hughes, and Charles Cadogan and C. A. Bennett.

The pantomime rendition of Poe's poem, "The Bells," by Misses Cornelia Morelock and Elizabeth Moyle was a feature in itself. A piano solo by Miss Loretta Fahey and a selection by the Harwood Mandolin and Guitar club, comprising W. G. Hawley, first mandolin; W. M. Young, second mandolin; C. W. Sprules, third mandolin; H. R. Higham, mandola, and D. F. Mayo, guitar, formed the instrumental parts of the programme. The exercises concluded, the floor was cleared and the devotees of tap-dance enjoyed themselves dancing to the excellent music provided by Mrs. Agnes Malot. Joseph Cadogan was master of ceremonies; assistant, George H. Malot. G. Morgan, Philip Schroeder, Robert Beavers, Louis and Albert Keisling, John Schelzky and John Conlton were members of the committee of arrangements.

Workmen's Beneficial Society Celebrates Its Sixth Anniversary.

ONE WAY TO CAUSE EXCITEMENT

Girl Who Thought She Saw a Colored Woman Stealing a Child Caused Great Excitement—James Patterson Is Wanted to Answer a Charge of Larceny—Louis Schwass Will Resign April 1—Peter Hartman and Miss Brown Married.

Workmen's hall, on Alder street, was crowded last night, the occasion being the twelfth anniversary of the Workmen's Beneficial Society, and the programme arranged for the evening was elaborate. Guth's band, Keystone orchestra, Scranton Liederkreis, Seranton Sengenerrunde, Younger Maennerchor, choir of the Church of Peace, and the Ladies' society of the Workmen's hall participated. The various numbers given by the talent were rendered in an excellent manner and elicited much applause.

John Ott, president of the society, made an address, reviewing the work of the society, and in closing he dwelt on the Lattimer strike and the trial of Sheriff Martin and his deputies. Mr. Ott characterized the killing of the strikers as a blot on civilization, and the trial at Wilkes-Barre as a farce. Following the concert, dance and luncheon were the features.

WAY THE STORY STARTED.

About 9 o'clock last night a young girl rushed into the home of Frank Fogan, 338 Birch street, and told Mrs. Fogan that a colored woman had just lifted over the fence in front of the house her four-year-old son, and with promises of buying him candy, walked hastily up Cedar avenue with the child. The distracted mother rushed out of her home screaming and in an instant the neighborhood was to the scene as the news was filled with stories of a child being kidnapped.

Patrolman George Jones was told of the case and he informed Lieutenant Zang and immediately many searching parties were out in all directions. An hour later the missing boy and his aunt returned to her home, and were greatly surprised to find the mother surrounded by neighbors consoling her. Explanations were asked and it appeared that the lad's aunt, when passing by the house, was asked by the boy to take him for a walk, and she lifted him over the fence, and remarked in doing so that she would buy him candy.

PATTERSON IS WANTED.

Alderman Ruddy issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of James Patterson, who is charged with stealing $10, a passbook and a pocket-knife, the property of Fred Schneider, Saturday night. In the information given by Schneider to the alderman he stated that Patterson and he were touring the city yesterday. An attempt by their homes Patterson asked him to go into a barn to sleep.

He accepted the invitation and upon awakening he discovered his money and Patterson had gone, hence the issue of the warrant. An attempt by their homes Patterson asked him to go into a barn to sleep.
